

7 INDICTMENTS IN ALASKAN LANDS FRAUDS ARE FOUND

Two Groups of Operators Charged With Getting Claims by "Dummies." ONE ACCUSED IS DEAD Charges of Crime in Bering River Region Follow Long Investigation.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—After months of secret effort and patient waiting, officials of the general land office were able to announce today the indictment of a number of claimants to valuable lands in Alaska. The entries involved number 154, and cover almost 2,000 acres of land, all of which lies in the Bering River district, in which the Cunningham group is located. They are what are known as the English or Stracey and the Christopher Simmonds group, the former containing eighty and the latter seventy-four claims of 60 acres each. The department covered by these claims are believed to be as rich as those of the Cunningham mines which cut a conspicuous figure in the Belling-Pinchot controversy. The indictments were handed down in the United States District Court, sitting at Tacoma. In the English group indictments were returned against C. F. Munday, A. H. Stracey, Archie W. Shields, and E. E. Stogley, and in the second group against Cornelius Christopher, George C. Simmonds, and Munday C. Sweeney. The first group of defendants takes its name from the fact that a number of people in Western Canada are supposed to be interested. Stracey is a resident of Vancouver, and is charged with being a dummy in making some of the locations. Munday is a prominent attorney of Seattle. The charge is that the entries were made in the names of "dummies," most of the entries were residents of Washington and they are said to have made an agreement that their claims should be assigned or deeded to third parties. There is said to have been a further understanding that the assignor should receive a large percentage of the proceeds. The charge differs from the charge in the Cunningham claims, in which there were no allegations that the entries took the claims for themselves but rather that they had a previous agreement to assign or dispose of their claims as a unit. It is said that few of the claimants in the new cases ever saw the land on which their names were used for locations. Both groups of claims figured in a considerable extent in connection with the Belling-Pinchot inquiry. Charges of fraud in connection with the entries were made two years ago and it had been asserted that the entries had been obtained by the land office, supposedly for ministerial purposes. Meeting this allegation with the statement that the services of the land office were needed elsewhere and that there was no time to investigate, it was conceded that they were not pressed for a period. Since last May, however, Mr. Christopher has been giving the major portion of his time to them. Another federal grand jury, sitting at Spokane, is considering other charges of fraudulent coal entries in Alaska, and results are expected from the investigations similar to those obtained at Tacoma. SEATTLE, Oct. 14.—Charles F. Munday, George C. Simmonds, and Cornelius Christopher, all prominent Seattle men, were arrested here late today on indictments returned by the Tacoma district court, charging a conspiracy to defraud the government in the Alaska coal lands. They were taken before United States Commissioner W. D. Totten and released under bonds of $2500 each. Warrants have also been issued for the arrest of Algonquin R. Stracey, an architect of Algonquin R. Stracey, and Earl E. Stogley. Stogley was private secretary to Michael J. Heney, the contractor who was building the Copper River railroad in Alaska, and the Copper River is now on the way from San Francisco to Seattle with the body of Heney, who died a few days ago. He will be arrested immediately after Heney's funeral, the seventh mortimer C. Sweeney, the seventh man for whom an indictment was returned, and the accused men are charged with having conspired to defraud the government of the California branch of the King's Daughters at the First Presbyterian church this morning. The Rev. Dr. Frank L. Goodspeed roundly denounced the members of the Oakland city council for supineness in not forcing the restaurant of the city to eliminate boxes. He told of his visit to the council chamber and the facts presented by the ministers and civic bodies. The matter is to be presented to the Purdy Congress new meeting in San Francisco and the congress will be asked to take action. The entire day was taken up with addresses and reports of officers.

STEAMER IS RAMMED AND TWENTY-THREE OF HER CREW DROWN

ST. NAZARE, France, Oct. 14.—The French steamer Ville de Rochefort was wrecked off Normandy Island early today. The British steamer Peveril picked up the first and second mates and the chief steward of the wrecked ship, but the twenty-three others of her crew are supposed to have been lost. The Peveril put in here tonight. It developed later than the Ville de Rochefort, bound from Bordeaux, was rammed by the Peveril, bound for Bilbao, and sank in three minutes.

CHARLTON FACING EXTRADITION NOW

Turned Over by New Jersey Court to Federal Authorities. NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Porter Charlton, the confessed murderer of his wife, Mrs. Mary Scott Castle Charlton, was today ordered turned over to the federal authorities in proceedings which have been instituted for his extradition to Italy. Judge Blair of the New Jersey Supreme Court declined to release Charlton and issued the order for him to be placed in charge of the federal authorities. Charlton was arrested on a German liner in Hoboken on his arrival from Italy last summer, shortly after the body of his wife had been found in a trunk in Lake Como, Italy. The young man confessed having killed his wife and was held to await the action of the Italian authorities and the federal government. A hearing was had on September 21st, when Justice Blair refused to hear testimony concerning Charlton's sanity. Charlton's alleged insanity was a condition which was argued as a reason why he should not be taken to Italy for trial. His counsel also argued that Italy, by enacting a law that no Italian citizen should be extradited, had abrogated all obligations of this country to extradite its citizens on Italy's demand. By his decision today, Justice Blair overruled this last contention, so far as the state court had to deal with it, and the whole matter is now to be put in the hands of the federal authorities. A new commitment was made out for Charlton as soon as Judge Blair's decision was rendered and the prisoner was ordered returned to his cell to await the action of the United States government.

During the day Bell, accompanied by Timothy Spellacy, the nominee for lieutenant governor, and Justice Honey C. Cleveland, nominee for justice of the appellate court, visited Cordelia, Suisun, Dixon and Winters. Good sized crowds greeted him at each point as he outlined the principles of his party's platform. Tomorrow morning he will take a special train here that will land him in Redding in the evening, making twelve speeches en route.

BIG STORM SWEEPS GULF WITH FURY; PROPERTY LOSS IS GREAT

Sugar Cane and Tobacco Ruined by Most Destructive Rain of Years.

SHIPPING IS WARNED

Town of Casilda Reported Destroyed With Many People Killed. TAMPA, Fla., Oct. 14.—The first serious tropical storm of the year, after sweeping Cuba last night and today and doing minor damage to shipping in West Indian waters, is tonight approaching the Florida coast line. All shipping within a radius of 500 miles of Key West was warned by wireless this morning and tonight most of the vessels have cast anchor. A report from Key West that the steamer had gone aground was later denied. There was an increasing wind here tonight and the barometer fell rapidly. HAVANA, Oct. 14.—The provinces of Havana, Matanzas and Pinar del Rio have been in the grip of the severest storm of recent years since Thursday. The highest velocity of the wind was eighty miles an hour. The rain probably was unprecedented and has wrought great damage to sugar cane and tobacco. The tobacco seed beds in the Yucita Abajo, where grows the finest tobacco in the world, doubtless have been destroyed. In the city of Havana only slight damage was done.

JOHNSON ON LAST LAP OF CAMPAIGN

Declares S. P. Attorney at San Francisco for Bell; Gillett Speaks. BERKELEY, Oct. 14.—Hiram W. Johnson started out on the last lap of his campaign tonight by addressing a big meeting in this city. Johnson was met at the station by a committee and a band. The hall where he spoke was well filled. Arthur A. Lett, chairman of the Johnson-Wallace Club of Berkeley, opened the program and Charles H. Spear acted as chairman. In his speech, Johnson attacked his Democratic opponent's declaration that the leaders of the progressive movement in the Republican party were bigots. "The other side in this fight," he declared, "you will find every reactionary influence and corporate interest. You see the attorney for the Southern Pacific railroad in San Francisco aligned with my opponent. Our Democratic friends do not like this designation. They have pinned their faith in success in getting that kind of vote and they must take the consequences. On our side we have drawn the line on that issue."

MOUNTED INCENDIARY DEFIES PATROL AND SPREADS FOREST FIRE

DENVER, Oct. 14.—Mounted upon a fleet horse, moving rapidly from place to place, a mounted incendiary is setting at naught the combined efforts of the large force of fire fighters working in the vicinity of Miramonte to subdue the fires which started in heavy timber of that section several days ago. He cleverly has evaded capture that it became necessary today to organize a patrol whose only duty it will be to capture him. Revenge and spite form the only motives for his action, according to Federal forestry officials. The district in which these fires are burning has been rapidly in recent months, and this is supposed to have stirred the anger of some of the old settlers. Today, more than sixty small fires had started, but the main blaze covers an area of fifteen square miles. Narrow escapes from death in the flames have occurred. A party of ten firemen became entrapped in a gulch and were held prisoners for two hours with the flames roaring all around them. All were rescued by government agents sent in search of them. Walter Burns, one of the party, suffered a dislocation of the hip and a fracture of the right foot, and another, Frank Nicholas, had an arm broken.

REAL ESTATE MEN ARE UP FOR FRAUD

TACOMA, Oct. 14.—C. D. Hillman, the Seattle real estate dealer, together with three of his employees H. B. Smith, J. E. Loreman and Samuel S. Cutler, were arraigned before Federal Judge Donworth today on charges of conspiracy to use the government mails to defraud, and entered pleas of not guilty. Hillman's arraignment today makes his third appearance before the court, and the new charge is the seventh indictment brought by the Federal grand jury against him. Indictments have been returned against H. C. Peet and Alcock Smith, together with conspiracy.

RAIN MENACES CROPS AROUND LOS ANGELES

Vagrant Storm Drenches 3 Counties, Sugar Beets and Lima Beans. LOS ANGELES, Oct. 14.—A rain storm which the government forecasters say was a vagrant that drifted from the ocean, drenched three counties surrounding Los Angeles today. Nearly an inch of rain fell here, in ten minutes, shortly after 5 o'clock, the low clouds pointed down two tenths of an inch, flooding the streets and soaking thousands of home-bound workers who were taken unawares. Eight-tenths of an inch fell in Orange county, around Santa Ana, and the sugar beet men fear for the safety of the remainder of the beet crop, which is about two-thirds harvested. In Ventura county the downpour stopped the lima bean harvest. Thirty thousand sacks of beans, worth $100,000, are in danger of being ruined. Long Beach received almost an inch of rain. The season's average there as well as here is but little more than two-tenths. Three-tenths of an inch fell in the Orange region about Riverside and Corona. SAN DIEGO, Oct. 14.—The rainfall for the twenty-four hours ending at 10 p. m. was three-quarters of an inch. Conditions are favorable for more rain tonight.

HUNDREDS PERISH AND VESSELS GO ASHORE DURING HURRICANE

Baltic Steamer Helpless in Storm; Britain Lined With Wreckage. DETAILS ARE SCANTY Bodies and Wreckage Clues to Losses; Many Vessels in Distress. ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 14.—A hurricane swept over the eastern coast of the Baltic sea last night, causing many wrecks and the loss of hundreds of lives among sailors. Throughout the night lights of distressed vessels were made out. Three sailing vessels foundered off the Gulf of Riga. Some of their men were rescued. The tide today swept up quantities of wreckage, including timber, naphtha cans and boxes of merchandise. At Mitau the wind tore down whole rows of houses, trees and telegraph wires. LONDON, Oct. 14.—The English coast is strewn with wreckage as the result of a storm that has continued for two days. The casualty list is a long one today. The bodies of five seamen from the coasting steamer Cranford were picked up off Hartlepool today. It is believed the vessel, which carried a crew of twenty, foundered and that the men were attempting to reach shore in a small boat when they were lost. Some of the wreckage coming ashore indicates that a sailing ship met a like fate. Lift boats from many points were out at last night and in some instances effected rescues. In other cases they were unable to reach distressed craft.

TWO KILLED AND 7 HURT IN CHASE OF A RENEGADE NEGRO

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Oct. 14.—In a fight between George Johnson, a negro, and a posse here today, two persons, including Johnson, were killed, two fatally injured and five seriously wounded. George Bias, a member of the posse, was killed by Johnson, and Detective Lenz and Charles Hale were fatally wounded.

ROOSEVELT OPENS HIS N. Y. CAMPAIGN

He Declares "Wall Street and Tammany Hall Have Struck Hands." ELmira, N. Y., Oct. 14.—With one broadcast for Tammany Hall and another for Wall Street, Theodore Roosevelt opened his campaign today for the office of governor of New York. The text of his speech was "Wall Street and Tammany Hall have struck hands." His slogan was, "You are wanted in room 212. Are you going?" Room 212 in a Rochester hotel was occupied by Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, during the Democratic state convention. Colonel Roosevelt started things going in his first speech of the day at Dunkirk. He spoke at Fredonia, Salamanca, Gettysburg, Jamestown, Elmira, and Elmira. He had only one theme. It was what he termed the alliance between Wall Street and Tammany Hall, which he said was the most complete alliance between corrupt business and corrupt political bosses, which the state had seen since the days of Tweed. If the Democrats should win the election, he said, Tammany Hall and Wall Street would dominate the state to the detriment of the people. Opposed to that, he pictured the Republican party as the true representative of popular rule. "If my career, if my life means anything," he said, at Jamestown, "I mean anything I do not say in private, that I never say anything I don't believe, and that I don't make a promise, unless I try to keep it. So I ask you to take my words at their face value when I speak to you." In his speech at Wellsville, Colonel Roosevelt said that when he was abroad he heard one name connected with everything that was bad in this country and that was Tammany Hall. Next to the name of Tammany Hall, he said, he heard the name of Wall Street. He said, "Wall Street and Tammany Hall have struck hands." Roosevelt is due back in New York tomorrow morning. On his arrival in New York city tomorrow, Colonel Roosevelt will meet several members of the state committee and outline with them a plan for his other campaign speeches in the state. He expects to cover the state as thoroughly as he can without making too great demands on his strength and is planning a fight which will make the campaign a lively one.

LE BLANC BREAKS AIR SPEED RECORD

Goes Measured Mile With Monoplane in 53 Seconds; Turpin Fails. ST. LOUIS, Oct. 14.—Alfred Le Blanc, who is to pilot the French balloon Isle de France in the international race which starts from here next Monday, established what is said to be a world's record for aeroplane speed over a measured course. With his Bleriot monoplane, Le Blanc made a mile in 53 seconds. Incidentally setting an American speed record. Clifford Turpin, of Dayton, O., in a Wright machine, failed to beat the American endurance record of three hours, eleven minutes and fifty-five seconds made here by A. L. Welsh of Washington, D. C. last Tuesday. Turpin descended after having been in the air one hour, two and one-half minutes. Ralph Johnstone rose 3,000 feet, shot off his engine and glided to earth in a series of dizzy spirals.

SECRETARY MEYER FOR ABOLISHING HALF OF NAVY YARDS EAST

Declares in Accord With Pacific Coast Naval Ideas, for United Fleet. NEWLANDS TALKS WAR Advocates Whole Fleet for Pacific, Because of Danger From Japan. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—Secretary of the Navy George Von L. Meyer, who was the guest of the business men of this city at a banquet tonight, advocated the abolishing of half of the navy yards on the Atlantic coast, during the course of his after dinner speech. He congratulated the Pacific coast upon being fortunate enough to have but two government ship yards, arguing that these may be brought to a greater degree of efficiency and made adequate to accommodate any sort of a fleet. He said that an effort would be made to expend $1,000,000 in deepening the channel to Mare Island in order that battleships and cruisers might reach the navy yard on any tide. "I have inspected all of the navy yards on the Atlantic coast, from Maine to South Carolina and I must say that we have too many yards on that side of the country," said Secretary Meyer. "Half of them should be abolished and will be if Washington will support me."

HARK! A VOICE!

George A. Knight, writing on the letter head of the National Republican committee, to make sure it is official, declines an invitation to a public dinner to Hiram Johnson, on the ground that he is a stand-patter and proud of it. To quote the exact language of the Voice from Humboldt:

"I am a Republican desirous of seeing William H. Taft renominated and re-elected President of the United States; I am a Republican who believes that a committee appointed to represent California on a tariff commission should not write a letter to California and her varied interests from the present one. I am a stand-patter in every sense of the word and proud of the patriotic history of Blaine and 'Czar' Tom Reed in their uphills and downhills, and would stand by old Joe Cannon to the end. These conclusions are at variance with the public declarations of our present leader—and I prefer to remain an interested Republican rather than an active one in the promulgation of principles I think destructive to the vital interests of California."

George is of course welcome to stay outside. By his own declarations, that is where he belongs. But by what right do he and his kind abuse the name of William Howard Taft by classifying him with themselves? Knight asserts that his convictions, as here specified, "are at variance with the public declarations of our present leader"—as indeed they are. But they are equally "at variance with the public declarations" of President Taft, in whose name, but not by whose authority, National Committeeman Knight has publicly and repeatedly put himself the exact positions which Knight here denounces. President Taft would refuse to run for re-election, on the platform here outlined. And neither President Taft, nor any other person, could carry a single state in the union on that platform. To put the President, without his knowledge or consent, in this position, is an outrageous violation of personal loyalty. For a national committeeman, in one letter, to repudiate both the Republican President and the Republican nominee for governor, ought to be equivalent to the resignation of his office.

This George A. Knight is a worn-out Gotham, says. He never was anything but a Voice-vox, or pratco, nihilist, and even the voice has ceased to attract attention. They have invented other instruments, even more strident, to place the Humboldt fog, and a new century, less resounding but more insistent and sincere has reached the popular ear. The new politics calls for ideas, which George Knight can not understand, and for progress, to which he and his clients are opposed. We may view with equanimity his refusal to break bread at a dinner in honor of Hiram Johnson. There were some guests at a certain gubernatorial dinner four years ago who will also be absent.

REFORMING LAWS

A committee of the San Francisco bar association, consisting of O. K. Cushing, Boutwell Dunlap, J. Harris, Beverly J. Hodghead, Grant M. Smith and Curtis H. Lindley, after a year's deliberation, has recommended changes in the civil and criminal procedure of the state, which are summarized as follows:

1. Verdict by three-fourths of jury in criminal cases except where penalty is death.
2. Prosecuting officer given right to comment on failure of accused to testify.
3. Witnesses to be denied right to refuse to testify on the ground that they might incriminate themselves but protected against prosecution for any offense concerning which they may be forced to give evidence.
4. Repeal of law requiring that indicted persons be given stenographic copy of testimony taken before grand jury.
5. Prosecutor to be given right to amend indictment found faulty.
6. Grand jury to be protected against prolonged investigation by indicted persons.
7. Defendants to be required to file answer to complaints at the same time that they file demurr.
8. Appeals to be based on minutes of the court instead of bill of exceptions, for purposes of expedition.

These changes are certainly conservative enough, and they come with the weight of authority of a responsible committee of very able men, who have given the matter the fullest possible consideration. They are all in the direction of common sense. Where nine jurors doubt a man's guilt, he should be acquitted. Where nine do not doubt it, he is guilty, and should be found so. If the accused refuses to testify, that is a significant fact, and should be given in court the reasonable significance which rational minds everywhere else attribute to it. Witnesses, knowing of a crime, should be compelled to testify to it, and if they may thereby gain immunity, every criminal will be afraid of his accomplices and crimes of conspiracy will be more risky. The law giving indicted persons a legal right to a stenographic report of the grand jury deprives the grand jury of its only useful, significant function. An indictment should be amendable by the prosecutor at any time before pleading, and with the consent of the court at any time thereafter, provided this liberty is not used to put the accused through a series of trials for substantially one offense. The law giving the accused the right to a jury trial should be amended so that the accused has no right to a jury trial in any case where the right to a jury trial is no longer in that category, and in civil cases, is notorious, and it is only reasonable to make the same amendment. Of all this there is no sensible or rational doubt whatever. And, since the recommendations are made by lawyers, representing the bar association, they are not open to the usual sneer which greets any suggestion by persons not practitioners of litigation. Even common sense has a right to a respectful hearing when good lawyers present it.

EXCLUSION IF NEEDED

"That statesmanship would be unwise indeed which passed an exclusion law against British subjects,"—Chronicle.

Why "unwise?" The phrase "British subjects" is a somewhat promiscuously inclusive term. There are all sorts of "British subjects," and some of them are already passing exclusion laws against each other. British subjects in Canada are keeping out British subjects from India, and British subjects in Australia are drawing the line against British subjects from China. England has two or three hundred thousand Chinese subjects at Hong Kong. She has two hundred million Hindu subjects in India. She has countless hordes of Kaffirs, Bushmen and non-descript blacks in South Africa. She has the whole population of Egypt, with all its motley races. If we are to keep this country from being the dumping ground of all the mongrel breeds of Asia and Africa, we shall have to stand ready to exclude British subjects just as freely as we exclude the same sort of people under any other political jurisdiction.

The fortunate discovery of the hookworm among Hindu immigrants furnishes a temporary subterfuge. But it is not really the hookworm that we object to in the Hindu. In fact, the more hookworms he has, the less menace he is likely to be. Besides, there must be millions of Hindus who have no hookworm, and British sanitary administration, now that the disease has been detected, can increase the number indefinitely. The disease is easy to prevent and easy to cure. It can be prevented, individually, by wearing shoes. It can be prevented collectively by sanitary precautions which will keep human excrement off the soil. And it can be cured, under supervision, by abstaining absolutely, for several days, from all oily or fatty foods, and on one of those days taking a full dose of thymol. A disease as simple as that is not going to be a permanent menace to any civilized country. But the Hindus, if they were all cured of it and of everything else would still be a menace, simply because they are Hindus. We have some institutions in this country which it is our supreme function in the world to preserve and justify. Those institutions can not survive the establishment of any caste system. Where the Hindu is, there is caste. So long as he remains a Hindu, he maintains caste against his fellow-Hindus. When his grandson becomes a percheron American, nature herself sets him up, by ineradicable race, as a separate caste among us. We must either give up our democratic institutions, or keep our population racially homogeneous. Our ancestors cursed one corner of this nation with a race problem, which all the centuries of human life on earth will never solve. Being circumscribed, we are temporizing with it, and may be able to continue to do so. But no race problem affecting the subjects of a great foreign power can be temporized with. We can neither solve nor evade such a problem, if we once import it. The only alternative is not to import it—and if that means, in time an exclusion law against the black, brown and yellow parts of Britain's motley empire, then exclusion it must be.

DEFIANT IN GUILT

Patrick Calhoun is not humbled yet. And, until he is humbled—until, under "conviction of guilt," he craves pardon for crimes which no man doubts (and he does not deny) he committed—he is entitled to neither forgiveness, consideration nor social countenance.

At Atlantic City, a few days ago, Calhoun spoke bitterly before a national convention of street carmen, of the injustice, the demagoguery and the intermeddling to which street car managers are subjected by politicians and newspapers. He claimed to have experienced himself with the sort of politicians who publicly declare that the interests must be driven out of politics, and yet secretly solicit campaign funds from those interests, and he recommended the right course (would he had followed it!) in dealing with them. "A politician," he said, "who will not enter by the front door, should be barred from the back door. He complained of the liability of railway corporations to blackmail and "cinch" bills, and said that "managers and owners are falsely charged with being the chief source of corruption in city government." Finally, he denounced the "new nationalism" of Roosevelt.

Some of these things may be true. All of them may be occasionally true, in occasional places. And somebody, perhaps, should say them. But not Patrick Calhoun. He has no right to complain of false accusations against corporation managers, for he himself is resting under a true accusation. He has no right to recommend the true remedy against blackmailing politicians, for he himself, in the crisis of reality's life, resorted to the false and corrupt remedy. He it was who first corrupted a city's government, and then, to escape the penalty, denounced its courts, reduced its press, and finally polluted even the springs of its public opinion. Corrupt, unrepentant, defiant, not denying his crime, but breathing Satan's vengeance against those who exposed him in it, Patrick Calhoun is about the most unlovely figure in American life today. He is entitled to only one thing, and that is the only right he demands—the right to buy whatever he can. Fortunately, public honor is no longer in that category, and private respect ought not to be.

TO FIRST VOTERS

Come, now, let us reason together. You are about to cast your first vote. As you determine to cast that, so, in all probability will you cast your next, and your next, until age and habit make it difficult to cast it any other way, even when new conditions justify a new decision. This is in many ways the most important vote of your life. It is certainly the one which you will approach with the greatest sense of responsibility. Under that responsibility, and with your young eyes still toward the future, how shall you cast it?

Where but with the one new, vital movement in American public life, with the one movement whose face is forward, with the only movement which, its feet soundly grounded on the past, is marching with undaunted courage to meet the problems of the future—the Progressive Republican movement? Great changes are impending in American politics. The old party lines are already broken, and new lines, under the old names or new, are visibly forming. Whether the new parties shall be new in name and form as well as in substance, it is not necessary now to decide. The present outlook is that the Progressive movement will continue in its present form, as a regenerated Republicanism. Whether that shall be the permanent result or not is one of the things you are to help determine. But the place to determine it is in the ranks of the organization that is to do it. And, under whatever name, it is already evident that this Progressive Republicanism is to be the vital force of the future, as it is of the present.

Do not take merely our word for it—blased as that may be by the prejudices of the old Republicanism. Take the word of the writers and students of American politics everywhere who are devoid of that prejudice—many of whom were Democrats, or at least mugwumps in the past, and some of whom aspire to be something much more radical than Progressive Republicans in the future. Read the magazines, the national weeklies, or the more serious and permanent studies. Everywhere you find the same judgment. Predictions of the future growth vary, but all agree that Progressive Republicanism is the root from which the growth will come. Those of us who are old-fashioned believe that the "Republican" part of the name, and the continuity of the organization and tradition of the party are an essential asset of the new movement. You may or may not agree. But if we are wrong, we shall need you, in a few years, to set us right. If we are right, we shall need you, in a few years, to do some things better than we. And you need to start, where a growing mind will feel at home and a growing ambition for public service can find its full opportunity.

This is a good year, in California, to make the choice. The victory, for which your fathers have yearned and striven for forty years, is just won. The old rubbish is just cleared away and all the new things are just ready to be done. We have a magnetic and inspiring leader in the state—Hiram Johnson. We have the most stirring leader the modern world has known in the nation—Theodore Roosevelt. It is a great new day, just dawning—your day. Start yourself in it, right.

Bonetter reported the robbery at 1 o'clock this morning. Bonetter admitted that he had been drinking a little. As he was walking at the depot for a southbound train, two men approached him and said they were railroad men. Bonetter said he had been in a "brake" train. The stranger, asked Bonetter, "take a little walk. The lumber jack took a "quick walk" and when the three were in the shadow of a box-car, one of the men grabbed him from behind and held him while the other relieved him of $20 in cash and a check for $47.95. LOS ANGELES, Oct. 14.—Los- ing his hold while on the tenth floor of a new steel building at sixth and Spring streets here today, Charles Umbarger, a structural iron worker, careered off a protecting beam on the next floor below and fell sheer nine stories through the air to the roof of a one-story building adjoining. He struck with such force that his feet and legs were driven through the inch boards and asphalt composing the roof. He was rushed to the receiving hospital, where a hasty examination showed that he was suffering from fractures of the arms and legs and internal injuries, but his back was not broken as at first feared, and surgeons say that he has a fighting chance for recovery.

TWO GOTHAM BROKERS ANNOUNCE FAILURES

Assignments Made for Creditors; $2,000,000 Liabilities Partly Covered.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Two New York brokerage houses failed today with liabilities aggregating nearly $2,000,000.

One is the stock exchange firm of Charles Minzeheimer and Company, Bridge Colby attorneys for the firm. Gaylord, who was engaged in business under the name of Latham, Alexander and Company, cotton and stock brokers.

In each case an assignment for the benefit of creditors was made. Bain and the other firm of Thomas G. was named as assignee for the Minzeheimer Company. With the announcement of the assignment, creditors of Minzeheimer and Company filed a petition in bankruptcy against the concern, and Edward G. Benedict was named as receiver. The petition alleges that the liabilities exceed $1,000,000 and consists chiefly of loans from banks and trust companies. The collateral securing these obligations is estimated to be worth 20 per cent more than the claims.

In a statement tonight, Colby estimated the liabilities at $1,750,000, with assets of $1,250,000. He predicted an early settlement with all creditors. Present members of the Minzeheimer firm are Arthur W. Joseph, Frank Maguire, Robert A. Rosefeldt and Allen F. Cohen. The business for a long time was extensive, and it has two branch houses in this city and one in Chicago.

LOS ANGELES BANK DOORS ARE CLOSED

Anderson Takes All Night and Day Bank Over During Litigation.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 14.—Alden Anderson, State superintendent of Banks, tonight took charge of the All-Night and Day Bank. His action was the climax of litigation extending over a period of several months and centering in an effort to oust President Newton J. Skinner and the other officers of the institution. Anderson announced tonight that he would keep the bank closed until the legal differences were adjusted. The bank is solvent, according to the superintendents announcement, and the depositors will not lose anything. If the differences are not settled the bank will be liquidated. The litigation which resulted in the closing of the bank tonight followed a run several months ago. Skinner and M. J. Connor, the cashier, deposited a majority of the bank stock to secure loans aggregating $50,000 obtained from L. C. Brand, president of the Title Guarantee & Trust Co. and others. The loans were called, and Skinner and Connor did not satisfy the claims. Upon the authority of the superior court a stockholders' meeting was called today, at which Brand was elected President. Skinner refused to surrender control and Anderson assumed charge tonight. The bank is capitalized at $200,000.

My Sapolin Furniture Polish Works Miracles!

The sale of my Sapolin Furniture Polish during the past ten days has been astonishing. People know a good thing when they try it. We call it so fast that I have ordered the next shipment to come in bulk loaded in a regular oil car. Take a look at the Hog bar with and study him: Sapolin Furniture Polish did it. See his bristles and see his tail! There are five twists and turns in it and each link is a dry-cell battery and will emit sparks on a rainy day. When this Hog is filled with Sapolin Furniture Polish, mixed with a gallon of kerosene, of Hungarian-Goulash, his tail shines straight out and this tale you can see about to visit us. Talk about your weather bureau forecast, get a hog, feed him as above and you will have a breathing selection. Besides you can grow your own bed-springs if you get together a band of hogs and get enough tails. Now this is a side issue telling you what Sapolin will do outside of its regular mission on earth. Sapolin just as it is prepared makes old furniture new. If used on a smooth surface of wood its action is so pronounced that you can make a looking glass. If used internally it is sure and use only 1 per cent Sapolin and 99 per cent Hungarian Goulash for Sapolin is strong and goes a long way.

Now call and get yours, at the same time let us show you our stock of Furniture. We carry everything from a carpet-lack to a front door mat. We can install anything and everything required to commence house-keeping. We can also furnish the paper on your wall, refrigerate you in the summer, warm you up in the winter.

WAYWARD SON GIVES FATHER MUCH WORRY

Byron Montgomery Spends Time Around Moving Picture Show Working for Hypnotist.

After appealing to Humano Officer William Harvey, Sr., and Police Commissioner L. O. Stephens, J. A. Montgomery, a driver for Donahoe-Emmons Company, appeared before Police Judge Briggs yesterday and signed a complaint charging his 16-year-old son, Byron, with vagrancy. Byron was brought into court and given a lecture. Mr. Harvey advised Montgomery to administer a thrashing to his wayward son, who has been spending most of his time around a moving picture show on I street, where a so-called hypnotist is giving daily exhibitions. The boy is a little over 16 and came under the work conducted by the local humane society. For this reason, Mr. Harvey advised the father to use the big stick. L. O. Stephens referred Montgomery to Chief Shaw, who took the father before Judge Briggs. The boy promised to return home. The next week, Byron has spent most of his time around the theater, where he acted as a subject for the hypnotist, receiving a few cents for his part of the program. The father claims that the hypnotist has cast a spell over his son and wants the man arrested.

Bodfish lost consciousness and did not revive until 3 o'clock yesterday morning, when he walked into town and went to police headquarters, arriving about 4 o'clock. He told his story and was taken to the emergency hospital, where the wounds on his head were washed.

Bodfish stated that he put up a fight against the highwaymen and stabbed one of them in the abdomen. He exhibited a bloody knife as proof of his claim. The big blade was covered with blood. Bodfish could give no description of his assailants.

GRANTS MRS. ECCLESTON DIVORCE; HUSBAND NOT PRESENT

Wife Tells of His Sudden Discovery That He Didn't Love Her.

Wanted Her to Go East and Marry Somebody Else; Harsh Language.

Louise Eccleston was conspicuous by her absence in court yesterday morning on the trial before Judge Briggs of the case instituted by her for a divorce from Mrs. Maud S. Eccleston. She was granted the divorce which she asked on the grounds of extreme cruelty on her cross-complaint. Eccleston was represented by Attorney J. A. Williams, but the latter did not address a question to the cross-complaint on the stand or her two supporting witnesses. Eccleston abandoned his case and made no effort to press his charges. The battle royal will come up next Monday morning at a special hearing when the community property division question will be taken up, also the matter of permanent alimony now fixed at $50 a month. The lawyers in the case disputed warmly as to the financial rating of Eccleston, with his attorney asserting that he is indebted for more than $10,000, while Judge Briggs remarked it would be to the plaintiff's interest to be in court to give information of this score, because the $50 alimony is at best a guess and tentative and suggestive of further inquiry.

George W. Jones appeared as the attorney for Mrs. Eccleston and, at the opening of court announced his resolution to press her cross-complaint and to demand the separation therein sought on all the charges of cruel and inhuman treatment.

Mr. Jones confined the inquiry strictly to several specific allegations of cruelty and covered allegations of the cross-complaint, said to be of a sensational nature, by the following general question:

"Now, Mrs. Eccleston, you are familiar with the cross-complaint and have read the charges closely, what do you say, are those charges true or not?"

"True, every word of them," was the reply.

Eccleston was of course the witness in chief in her own behalf. She was visibly affected while on the stand and during the greater portion of the ordeal on the stand was in tears.

The other witnesses in her behalf were her sister, Miss Alice Johnson, who had come from San Diego to give her testimony, and Everett Parsons, a mutual friend of the Ecclestons.

The Ecclestons were married at Springfield, Mo. She was questioned at length particularly regarding the occurrence on the 16th of June, before which day she said they had never had a serious dispute.

Mrs. Eccleston related how on that evening after dinner they had a conversation and he said: "I don't love you any longer and I will not live any more with you."

"I was shocked," she declared, "and he declared he must have suddenly become insane. I threw my arms about him to plead with him, and he pushed me away roughly. He declared he had all his plans arranged, that I had better pack up my trunk and leave him but never to tell any one why he had left. He also promised he would have told the reason and after a reasonable time at the end of a year he would get a divorce."

Continuing, the witness said that he had declared at this conversation that there "is nothing anywhere in this marrying business," she declared, "just imagine 'forget him in a week' and he 'had to have a woman whom he could love,' and his love for her was gone. 'There's nothing wrong about you,' he said," testified Mrs. Eccleston.

"For you are the dearest, sweetest and brightest girl I have ever known. I don't love you any more and I want to live the life I lived before marriage."

Upon return from an automobile ride one hour after this conversation, Mrs. Eccleston said she had asked her whether she had begun on her plans to leave and declared the same when she was asked to leave for him to address his affairs. The sooner she appreciated the fact that there was nothing wrong with him and understood that he was talking business the better also for her. She could go East and marry again. He had no fault to find but force of circumstance when she was asked to leave.

Just as she was about to leave, she said, she was told that he was not to take money from a man that she married. Life would be nothing more than legal prostitution. Neither God nor I could prevent him from having his freedom," he said, "for he couldn't control his affections."

"I asked him whether another woman had entered into his life and he turned on his heel and said: 'I don't dare to insult me, by saying such a thing.'"

The witness said that Eccleston frequently borrowed money from her, in fact had borrowed all that she had and he is now indebted to her the same over a conversation of which she was informed as that before narrated.

It was at her home in the presence of his mother and of her sister, Mrs. Eccleston had sent for her mother-in-law and asked him to tell her what he had told about the separation, her going away and his seeking a divorce, but his only answer was, "I will not discuss my private affairs before my mother."

Details were given of another conversation had in the hearing of the sister-in-law, and Mrs. Eccleston related an incident about this time when he informed her that he was an invalid, to her as a woman and son to do, there would not be a word of your reputation left. Men believe every report circulated about a woman and the men of this city are all my friends."

There was testimony of his lack of sympathy and care while she was very ill after a severe operation in Oakland, and when she stated she feared a divorce and when he said, "Oh no, you're too mean to do." Other evidence on this above general line was given and the witness asserted that this course of treatment continued and grew worse because of her refusal to leave on the advice of his mother. She died stay until the separation day. "He ordered me out of the house,"

I must leave Fresno because my presence interfered with him socially. He even asked me to sign a statement that I would never come back nor tell why we had separated. I refused to sign and he charged that I was afraid to leave him for fear of starvation and that I was hanging on to him for my bread and butter. He also said then that if I insisted on living with him, when he had no love for me I was no better than a prostitute and for me to live with him was nothing more than organized prostitution.

Threats and treatment such as described were frequent during the year 1929. Since April, 1929, he had only given her fifty cents for lunch at noon.

In closing, she testified that he had an income from $50 to $500 as stated by him and as she knew from making out his bills and helping him on his books, declaring also that he had La Blanc and Devil's Den oil mining stock, besides patented oil lands.

Miss Johnson corroborated her sister's statements as to conversations had in her hearing, and further stated that Eccleston desired her to sign a statement that she had left the Eccleston house against his wishes.

Mr. Parsons detailed conversations had with the plaintiff in which he stated that he did not longer love his wife, couldn't live with her, that he had asked her to separate and that she wouldn't go.

This closed the testimony and then the question of Eccleston's financial status was taken up. Attorney Williams stated that he had gone over Eccleston's accounts, that his income does not exceed $250, that he is indebted $10,000 and that his net income is between $100 and $125.

The interlocutory decree was granted, contingent further only at this time upon the order as to the community property and alimony, which will be definitely determined next Monday after an examination of accounts and schedule of property assets.

CHINESE YOUTH IN TROUBLE WITH LAW

Harry Wong, Native Born, Aged 17 Years, Mired in Lively Rigs and Forgets to Return Them.

Harry Wong, a native-born Chinese, aged 17 years, was arrested at noon yesterday by Patrolman Goehring, on a charge of embezzlement. Wong was arrested on two charges. Charles A. Hopper and W. O. White, local liverymen, swore to complaints accusing Wong of embezzlement. Wong was arraigned in two courts and returned to jail in default of bail of $2000.

Hopper swore to the warrant before Judge Graham and White signed his complaint. Judge Smith set bail at $1500 on the White complaint. The Chinaman hired rigs from the two livery stables about October 1. He kept the horses for two weeks and then returned them to different stables. The rigs were located by the police and Wong was arrested.

He telephoned in an alarm to engine house No. 1 and the apparatus was sent to the scene. The flames did no damage and the firemen were not needed. The alarm was sent in at 7 o'clock yesterday morning.

SOCIETY

The many friends, in fact, the town of Fresno that gave Maude Lillian, Henri Moulton to the opera world, will be glad to know that she is really going to spend the winter in her home town. What is more—she is planning to build an artistic little bungalow on the Grand Central Farm, "just to see how she likes it." "I want a place where I can hang up my clothes," Mrs. Moulton said in her genial way that is so irresistible, her manner being quite as lovely as her voice and person. "I'm so tired of living in trunks."

She left Fresno last night for San Francisco and will leave for Wisconsin on Monday where she intends selling out her property and shipping her furniture to her new house. She will probably return to Fresno in December where she will be joined by her daughter, Miss Bertha Fisher, who is at present at school in Oakland.

Mrs. Moulton has not yet decided upon her course for next season, but probably the lure of the "fashionable" will recall her.

Mrs. S. N. Griffith is spending a short while in San Francisco.

Miss Teale Huber is at home again after an extended stay in Carmel-by-the-Sea and in San Francisco.

Miss Mary A. Steward returns to

San Francisco today after a most enjoyable sojourn in Fresno. Her friends are hoping that she will make a return visit some time during the winter.

Mrs. W. W. Cross was hostess yesterday afternoon at the convening of the Friday Card Club for the first time this season. Mrs. Cross is a most useful business and her guests are always royally entertained. Bridge kept the members busy through the afternoon. Mrs. B. E. Shepherd winning prize for high score. The members present at this enjoyable meeting were Mrs. T. W. Patterson, Mrs. Emory Donahoe, Mrs. Frank H. Hurl, George Roeding, Mrs. Frank H. Hurl, Mrs. W. P. Lyon, Mrs. George Monro, Mrs. Alex. Snow, Mrs. Willis Fisher, Mrs. F. E. Shepherd, and Mrs. E. E. Manheim. Mrs. Emory Donahoe is the club's next hostess.

The Merry Twelve Card Club met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Will Thurnman, "500" was the game played and this congenial group of young girls and matrons made this second meeting of the year a very jolly affair. Small vases of flowers ornamented the card tables which were afterwards used as refreshment tables.

Mrs. George Helm invited a number of her friends for an informal sewing bee yesterday afternoon at her charming country home. Her guests were Mrs. E. A. Walcott, Mrs. W. J. Dick, Mrs. J. L. Maupin, Mrs. Montgomery Thomas and Mrs. C. Cox.

Mrs. Allan Cuzens entertained the Friday Study Club at her home on Yosemite Avenue yesterday afternoon. Mrs. W. P. Miller leading in the first reading of Othello.

Some of the young matrons of local society have become highly interested in the art of dancing and a class of them will meet this morning at the Parlor Lecture Club house under the direction of Miss Elsie Smith. She made a study of this highly fashionable art during the past summer in Boston.

Robert L. McCook is having a house on Thelma street remodeled to suit his tastes, and will leave his present apartments in the Sequoia Club upon its completion.

A very quiet wedding occurred last Wednesday evening at the parsonage of the North Side Christian church when the Rev. Charles Reel united in marriage John W. McCollister and Miss Anna Martin. The wedding gown was of soft silk with satin trimmings and was very becoming to the bride. Miss Martin is a Fresno girl and her many friends here. Mr. McCollister is with the Associated Pipe Line company at Rug, where a cozy furnished bungalow awaits the occupancy of the young people.

Mrs. F. L. Zimmerman entertained the members of the Alert Circle, yesterday afternoon at her lovely country home on Mission road. Affairs of the church occupied the principal place on the calendar for the afternoon which was followed by a social hour over the tea cup.

Mrs. Viola McPherson, wife of Dr. McPherson of Washington state, is spending the winter in California and will visit her sister, Mrs. H. M. Hood, of Fresno, for several weeks. Mrs. Hood has not had the pleasure of seeing her sister for fourteen years.

Mrs. Fred Fisher is in San Francisco visiting her daughter, Hazel, who is attending Miss Hamilton's school.

7 INDICTMENTS IN ALASKAN LANDS FRAUDS FOUND

It is charged further that certain persons were induced to make untrue, false and fictitious locations, ostensibly for the individual profit of the claimant, but in truth, for the benefit of the Alaska Development Company and the Pacific Coal and Oil Company.

The indictments in the cases of claimants in the "English group" charge that Monday, Shields, Siegel and Stracey conspired with others to get possession of valuable coal lands for the benefit of private corporations known as the Alaska Development Company and the Pacific Coal and Oil Company.

Defendants in the English group will go into court on two counts each. STRACEY HEAD OF PLANS. Stracey, who has never been naturalized, is alleged to be one of the heads of the conspiracy, and Shields was in his employ. All the Alaska coal claims, it is charged, were investigated and suspended by L. R. Glavis, who a year ago after detecting fraud, laid the matter before United States District Attorney Elmer E. Todd in this city. Todd, pointing out that there had never been any criminal prosecutions under the coal claims laws, referred Glavis to the Interior Department.

Special Agent Christensen would have proceeded, he said, several months ago, but valuable witnesses were in Washington before the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee. It is alleged that the matter was delayed until the English group was known to the department at that time. The department obtained first notice of the Stracey deal in 1907, when there were no coal land laws applicable to Alaska. Stracey went to London and interested English capital in the development plans and later the English company assigned its lease to the Pacific Coal and Oil Company and then to Stracey. It is charged that Monday induced the government to pass the Alaska coal and oil act of 1904. He is alleged to have made several trips to Washington and secured the assistance of influential friends in bringing about the enactment. With this law behind him, Stracey, it is claimed, rushed forth with his employees, some of whom were unable to speak the English language, into the deal, and induced them to file at $100 each on the coal claims.

"This was so raw, even for Stracey," said Christensen, "that the claims were said to be permitted some of his friends to proceed with the filings."

OTHER COUNTS. In the case of Christopher, the government charges that he, in company with Mortimer C. Sweeney, now dead, and George C. Simmonds, conspired in 1904 and 1905 to secure title to 11,000 acres of coal lands, and that Christopher located thirty-seven and Simmonds thirty-three personal in the coal claims in this region, it is charged, have since conveyed the claims from the original holders.

Three companies were subsequently formed. It is alleged, to secure patents under the act of May 28, 1908. Stracey is a brother of Sir Edward Stracey of London, who was named manager of the English end of the corporation.

Consul Christopher is a veteran of the Civil War and a prominent mining promoter. Charles F. Munday and George C. Simmonds are attorneys and Simmonds at one time occupied a judicial position in Colorado.

SEC. MEYER VISITS MARE ISLAND YARD

VALLEJO, Oct. 14.—Secretary of the Navy Gen. Von L. Meyer, who arrived here last night, began today his inspection of the Mare Island navy yard. A salute was fired from the receiving ship Independence. Accompanied by Rear Admiral Hugo Osterhaus, commander of the yard, and escorted by a company of marines, the secretary proceeded to the administration building. All of the officers of the yard were assembled there in full dress to be introduced to the visitor.

Following the official reception, the secretary began his inspection of the yard. He was accompanied by the heads of the various departments. Later, the secretary visited the barracks and the naval hospital.

PURIFY FEDERATION MEETS BESIDE BAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—A congress of the American Purify Federation convened here today. The first subject to be considered being the white slave traffic. Addressing the delegates Arthur H. Farwell of Chicago, Mrs. E. M. Whittemore of New York, Owen O. Ward of Springfield, Pa., and others interested in the movement for social and civic purity.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 14.—Rain, which began early last evening and caught the theater crowds unprepared, was still coming down at 11 o'clock today, of an inch had been recorded for the present storm, which, according to reports from back country points, covers a wide area. The forecast issued by the local station of the United States weather bureau is for more rain tonight and fair weather tomorrow. Rain far as known has done little damage to dry fruit and generally speaking, is welcomed by the ranchers.

MILLIONAIRES MAY FORFEIT ART WORK

Officials May Confiscate Paintings of Duveen Patrons.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—An anonymous note sent to William Loebl, Jr., collector of the port of New York, precipitated the sensational raid yesterday on the Fifth Avenue establishment of Duveen brothers, the art dealers, and the arrest of two members of the firm, Benjamin J. and Henry J. Duveen, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government of more than one million dollars by under valuation of imports.

Loeb made this announcement tonight. In the event of fines being imposed or duties recovered from the firm or its members, the informant will be in line for the reward given by the government for evidence resulting in such conviction.

If the alleged frauds prove as extensive as customs officials have estimated, this reward will probably be between $100,000 and $200,000.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Customs officials were engaged today in examining works of art displayed in the galleries of the Duveen Brothers, art dealers and antiquarians, two members of which firm, Henry J. Duveen and Benjamin Duveen, were arrested yesterday on a charge of defrauding the government out of customs duties by means of undervaluation, which amount to many thousands of dollars.

The United States government has warrants out for the remaining members of the firm, who have art galleries in the leading capitals of Europe.

Millions of dollars' worth of paintings and art works have been sold to millionaires are patrons in this country and it was suggested today that the customs officials may invade these art collections and temporarily hold the master pieces pending an adjudication of the alleged frauds. District Attorney White said he believed that fraudulent valuations had been made systematically for years.

Benjamin J. Duveen, who was arrested at the Fifth Avenue art gallery yesterday, and Henry J. Duveen, who was arrested aboard the Lusitania last night, are out on bail. Thirty pieces of luggage brought in by Henry Duveen last night are under examination by the customs inspectors.

AVIATOR ALIGHTS NEAR WHITE HOUSE

Grahame - White Alights With Aeroplane in Narrow Thoroughfare.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Claude Grahame-White, the English aviator, flew today from Benning race track to Washington, a distance of over three miles, and made a successful landing in the Executive avenue, between the White House and state, war and navy buildings.

The flight was made for the purpose of paying respects to General Allen, chief signal officer of the army. Official business suspended in order to welcome the aviator.

Executive avenue, where White landed, is a narrow street, and his aeroplane had a space of only ten feet on either side between the fences of the White House offices and state, war and navy buildings.

Awaiting him on the navy department steps were the chief officers of both army and navy. The admiral of the navy, George Dewey, "hero of Manila," was one of the first to grasp his hand, and offer congratulations.

The acting secretary of the navy, Beckman Winthrop, was one of the most interested spectators.

Far over the city the flying machine was first sighted. It passed over the buildings at a height of about 600 feet. The aviator approached the Washington Monument and then changed his course to circle the White House and War Department in order to make a good landing in the narrow street.

After luncheon with army and navy officers, White ascended toward the Washington Monument and back to Benning. The ascent was even a more difficult feat than the one White performed in alighting. His arrival formed a starting point for the Pennsylvania avenue in a hundred feet before leaving the pavement. Then it rose gradually, cleared the trees at the other end of the street and sailed away.

The trip was made without mishap. In exhibition flights at Benning today the aeroplane was damaged in two minor accidents, but White was not injured.

BOMB IN PARIS NEAR TO AMERICAN EMBASSY

Believed Attempt to End Live Strike; Rioting Continues.

PARIS, Oct. 14.—A powerful bomb was shattered by the police today at the foot of a tree in Avenue Kléber, near the American embassy. The officers attribute the attempted outrage to anarchists who sought to put new vigor into the apparently dying railroad strike.

The embassy is located at 15 Avenue Kléber. The missile was taken to a laboratory, where an examination showed it consisted of 300 grains of cheddle powder and several iron bolts. It was similar to the bomb exploded last night in front of the house at No. 6 Rue De Berri, a few doors from the embassy.

Traffic conditions generally were improved today. The Western railroad is practically tied up, but only eight per cent of the employees of the Northern road failed to report for duty this morning.

Provisions in sufficient supply for Paris are arriving.

RIOTING CONTINUES. The backbone of the railway strike appears to have been broken, but rioting occurred today and the government, fearing further disorders, brought ad-

TRAFFIC ASSOCIATION TO APPOINT MANAGER MONDAY NIGHT

F. M. Hill, Experienced in Such Work, Probable
Appointee.

No Strenuous Effort Will be Made to Meet R. R.
Commission Yet.

At a meeting of the Traffic Association last Monday evening to be held in the Chamber of Commerce building, definite action will be taken in regard to the appointment of the traffic manager for Fresno. The committee of the association has rendered the position to F. M. Hill, who has had considerable experience in a similar position at San Bernardino. While no formal action has yet been taken, it is reported on good authority that along the only action remaining to be taken in the ratification of the appointment.

will be in office, and it is thought that more effective work could be done with the new officials. The association is yet in the shape of a present to the commission, and it is said no very strenuous efforts will be made to present any case.

President A. L. Hubbs of the Chamber of Commerce stated yesterday afternoon that that body would probably take no action in regard to the coming of the commission, leaving such matters to the Traffic Association.

With the new Railroad Commission in office, and the traffic manager appointed, the association plans to inaugurate an aggressive campaign along the lines for which it was organized. Data will be compiled relating to unequal and unfair freight rates and will be brought before the proper authorities.

Individual complaints by shippers will be placed before the traffic manager, and it is believed that through this agency prompt attention can be obtained from the several lines. He will have a permanent office here, in order that there may be no delay in the handling of cases.

While the State Railroad Commission will be in session here next Friday, it is hardly probable that the association will bring any matters before the board, as a new set of officials soon

VARIETY OF HIGH GRADE ATTRACTIONS ANNOUNCED FOR THE BARTON NEXT WEEK

Hazel Kirke as Lady Leslie in "A Stubborn Cinderella," at the Barton next Wednesday evening.

"A Stubborn Cinderella," which has proved one of the best entertainments of its kind produced in recent years, will be the attraction at the Barton next Wednesday evening. That it will be one of the season's most successful bookings at this theater can easily be anticipated. Few, if any, comedies of like nature have won for their owners as great financial results as "A Stubborn Cinderella."

In presenting "A Stubborn Cinderella," this season Charles A. Gostler is said to have outdone himself in the carefulness of its production. The costumes, scenery and effects are all new and elaborate. The cast, too, has received that artistic manager's personal attention with the result that many notable artists are among the principals. The chorus is one of the many features, for, as is well known, an attractive, hard working and good singing ensemble is essential to the success of the comedy. George Marlon staged the original and his work is carried out again with this season's company to the minutest detail by Charles Dumorel. The seat sale opens this morning at 9 o'clock.

"Our New Minister"

Harry Doel Parker has come to the conclusion that plays without specially featured stars are preferred by the public. Mr. Parker recently announced that he will hereafter bring out plays in which there will be neither star nor feature player. Ever since the production of "Our New Minister" Mr. Parker has realized the advantage of no-star plays. The original intention was to produce "Our New Minister" with a star, it being decided that the role of Thaddeus Strong would be the stellar part. However, the play was produced without a star, feature player or even a Broadway favorite. The result is history and it is interesting to note that all the characters made a decided impression upon the large audience, when it was originally intended for the part of Thaddeus Strong.

This everlasting play of "Our New Minister," by Benjamin Thompson and George W. Byer, authors of "The Old Homestead," will be presented with a cast of uniform excellence, at the Barton next Thursday evening, October 20th. The seat sale opens next Monday.

"The Witching Hour"

The Suburbs will offer here next Friday evening, October 21st, John Mason in Augustus Thomas' highly imaginative play, "The Witching Hour." The intensity of its dramatic situations and its brilliant dialogue, which can always be expected from the author of "Alabama," "The Mizoum" and "Arizona," would be enough in themselves to please the mass of playgoers and make this a decisive new success. Those who seek a higher inspiration from the drama will also find in this unique play and it places Mr. Thomas further ahead of the front rank than ever. The beauty of the second act is particularly appealing in its mystic and sentimental charm, woven, as it is, around one of Bret Harte's exquisite poems. The fourth act adds increased value to the other three by turning all the drama and all the occult themes into the most admirable inspiration to nobler thought and character. The seat sale opens next Tuesday.

COURT TABOO IS PLACED BY JUDGE AUSTIN ON YOUNG WIFE

Dr. Martin Released From Jail on Giving Bond in Sum of $1000.

Market Hunter Maroney
Sent to San Quentin for Rest of His Life.

Judge Austin placed yesterday is against Moves Monaghan and Samuel Knowlton, the legal taboo on young Mrs. Peplon Najarian in the having court order served on them by Deputy Sheriff Pickert.

It is by this court ordered adjudged and decreed that the said defendants or either of them, their agents, servants, or employees be and hereby are restrained and enjoined from writing to, or visiting, persuading, enticing or in any way communicating with said Peplon Najarian until the further order of this court. The order was made after Levon Najarian, the husband, had filed a $500 bond in the case which Judge Austin remarks is the first one of its kind ever brought in this county. The suit is for an injunction to permanently forbid them from beguiling or enticing the wife from home and husband.

Attorney J. G. Olaneston for the husband says he has reason to believe that it will not be necessary to press the case to a finality, because the young wife has been counselled with and has promised not to further accept the attentions of the temporarily enjoined suitors.

"The case is the old story," said he, "of a man past the meridian of life, aged 55, married in the old country to a girl about 18 years of age. She is not much more than a child in worldly experience, pined for the petting and attention that she says she did not receive at home and visited automobile rides and clandestine meetings to brighten up a commonplace existence. She is at home now with her baby and I feel sure will stay there."

OUT ON BAIL AGAIN.

The return to the second writ of habeas corpus sued out in behalf of Dr. J. E. Martin on Thursday before the district appellate court will be made on Tuesday next according to the court order. Inasmuch as the court also admitted him to bail, his presence in court at the hearing is not essential. Dr. Martin was released yesterday afternoon from jail on giving a new bond for $1000 with D. H. Williams, the furniture man, and Clarence Foin, as the sureties. The case in the appellate court will more especially raise the question of the constitutionality of the statute for providing the dying wife with proper and necessary medical attention.

SENT UP FOR LIFE.

Market Hunter Jim Maroney was sentenced yesterday by Judge Austin to imprisonment at San Quentin for the remainder of his natural life. He had pleaded guilty to the charge of having shot and killed Casimiro Tognetti near Firebaugh on the 15th of last July and Judge Austin determined from the testimony that the crime was murder in the first degree and informed the aged prisoner that the law gave him no alternative under the circumstances attending the killing than to impose the sentence that was passed.

"Notwithstanding the sentence which the court will pronounce upon you, your case, despite your advanced years, is not altogether hopeless. By good behavior at San Quentin you may always win the right before you of placing yourself in the way of being granted a pardon or after a period of time being released on parole," were the last comforting words addressed to the prisoner.

The age of the prisoner, the fact of his having pleaded guilty and the further fact that he was under the influence of liquor when he committed the crime were given due consideration. The fact, however, was that there was premeditation to commit the crime because the testimony showed that he boasted of his intended act before the killing and had a full knowledge of its consequences as shown by his statements made after it.

TO BURY FIRE VICTIMS.
RENT HETTE, Minn., Oct. 14.—A detail of twenty Minnesota national guardsmen left Beaulieu early today to bury the bodies of Martin and Nels Kirke and John Algren, discovered yesterday in a cedar tangle seven miles east of here. All yesterday, woodsmen were chopping a road into the burned and fallen woods by which the bodies are to be taken to Silver Creek for burial if they are not too badly decayed. If they cannot be moved they will be buried where they lie.

You are not experimenting on your self when you take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a cold as that preparation has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable cures of colds, and can always be depended upon. NEW METHOD FOR TEACHING HISTORY

Superintendent Lindsay Finds It in

County Superintendent Lindsay discovered yesterday on a visit to one of four schools where he says is an original and effective method employed by Principal John Wash of the Highland school to interest pupils in the study of history.

The method is to roughly outline on a manila paper sheet three or four feet square, the area of country, historical locations, rivers and general landmarks and the routes followed by explorers or invading armies or conditions, each map so made covering the daily history lesson, covered by the manual. These outlined maps Mr. Wash draws himself, and he has quite a collection of them covering the course in history so far as it has advanced during the school term. Mr. Lindsay confirms that the method is successful because the pictorial representation fastens on the mind of the pupil more clearly the lessons of their text books, as he ascertained from a general test examination.

The four visited schools were: L. L. can, where he found an enrollment of 25, with an attendance of 22; at Arantville, 40 and 33 respectively; at Highland in Principal Wash's room, 22 and 26, and in Miss Ellis' 41 and 38, and in the Paige school, 36 and 35.

Permits to build were granted yesterday by the city engineer for the following construction work:

A. G. Letva, $200, repairing work on dwelling on lots 22 and 23, block 33.
C. J. Holcomb to add three rooms and porch to existing building on lots 9-11, block 373, at cost of $600.

SEVERS HER WINDPIPE; SAVED BY OPERATION

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 14.—Expert surgery saved the life of Mrs. Belle Turner of Fresno City, today after she had completely severed her windpipe with a pair of scissors. Mrs. Turner was dependent because of ill health. When she was found in bed at the home of her sister at 5715 North Hill street, she was rushed to the Rescuing hospital. The surgeons performed the operation of tracheotomy, an incision of the windpipe, and it is believed the woman will survive. Mrs. Turner, who is the mother of four children, came here September 1st.

Rev. John S. Porter reported for the mission in Austria and pleaded for $50,000 to aid in the work there.
The annual meeting of the board next year will be held in Milwaukee.

STRIKEN MOTHER ENDS LIFE WITH RIFLE BULLET

Death of Little Son Last Spring Drives Mrs. J.
Berg to Suicide.

Wife of Parlier Rancher Is Found Dead by Children
Back From School.

PARLIER, Oct. 14.—Through grief over the drowning last spring of her two year old son, who fell into an irrigating ditch, Mrs. J. P. Berg, wife of a rancher living a mile and a half north of this place, committed suicide this afternoon by shooting herself with a rifle. While she was known to be grieving over the death of her child, lately she had never given any indication of planning such a desperate act. Shortly after the recovery of the body of the son the mother stated that she might as well drown herself, but subsequently she showed less violent grief. Death was instantaneous. Two of the other four children of the family were just returning from school when the tragedy happened.

They heard the shot and ran into the house. Looking through the rooms they saw the body of their mother lying on her bed. The frightened children summoned their father, who was working nearby, but who had not heard the shot. The now motherless household has four children, the oldest of whom is 11 years. Friends of the family say that grief over the woman's loss must have driven her to the act. She was known to have expressed desperate sentiments after the body had been recovered shortly after the drowning. The remains were brought to Fresno, but the arrangements have not been completed yet.

WILL TAKE PERVIS BACK TO OAKLAND

Police Detective Arrives Here to Return Long-Sought Criminal to Stand Trial.

An Oakland police detective, who arrived here last night, will return to the bay at 5 o'clock this morning, having in custody John Pervis, alias John Peavy, who has been wanted in the trans-bay city for a year on a felony charge. Pervis was arrested in the local Chinatown October 8 by Earl Thomas William Mahan, a year ago. Pervis assaulted Richard Tress with a knife, inflicting wounds that almost proved fatal. After the assault, Pervis disappeared and remained in hiding until he was arrested here.

GIVE DECISION TODAY UPON TIED NOMINEES

St. John and Smith Perform the Alphonse-Gaston Act
Before Deciding.

It being urgent to have the manuscript ready for the printing next week of the November election county sheet, and the Evening Dispatch of communicating by telephone with the outside tie nominees, the supervisors will this forenoon themselves decide by lot who shall be the Socialist and Prohibition nominees on the ticket.

For Justice of the Peace in the Second Township, A. S. Kirkpatrick has waived his claim to the Prohibition nomination, so it will go uncontested to Isaac Coby of Clovis.

S. C. St. John, G. W. Smith and E. S. Van Meter also waived the Prohibition nomination for Justice of the Third and so the nomination for that party will not be represented on the ticket. The "after you, my dear Gaston" act was performed before this Justice nomination was settled to the satisfaction of all concerned. Van Meter waived himself out of the running altogether. St. John waived in favor of Smith and Smith in favor of St. John. As this did not settle the matter they left it to Clerk Ewing, promising to abide by whatever might be his decision. "Will" Ewing rejected that decision should disclaim the nomination and so the Prohibitionists will have no nominee for Justice in the Third Township.

W. H. Puleston and W. J. Pitkett also waived the Prohibition nomination for Justice of the Second Township, and left it to Drenth and Maehen, who are primary elected candidates, all having tied each on two votes and there being two candidates for the office.

Judge A. G. Smith will attend today to cover the drawing by some one of the board for the Laton Justice nomination as between him and R. Hoisinger. There are five other nominations left undetermined.

SCHOOL IS SAVED FROM SUSPENSION

Trustee Chairman Will Bring Pupils to Idle Teacher of Lewis Creek District.

"If Mohammed will not go to the mountain, then the mountain will come to Mohammed," said so if Miss Sarah Sparks has no children to teach in the Lewis Creek school district. Trustee A. J. Christman will bring the children to the district to rehabilitate the school. Since the opening of the term on the 12th of last month, Miss Sparks has been daily visiting the school house for the pupils that came not. Trustee Christman had moved his family, including six children, temporarily to Houghton district, and this left the district without school children. Learning of the move to find another school for Miss Sparks, Mr. Christman notified the school superintendent yesterday that he would move back home and the six children would save the district from suspension.

"Don't take away the teacher," he said, "I'll bring back the school to the teacher."

Lewis Creek district is in the Chalmers district.

JUVENILE COURT IS IN SESSION TODAY

Three Accused Delinquents Will Come Before Judge Austin for Reproof.

Judge Austin will sit this morning as a special court to take up the cases of three accused delinquent minors. George P. Seubert of Reedley has made complaint that Naomi Cyrler, aged 16, be dealt with as an incorrigible, because she persistently refuses to obey the reasonable and proper orders and directions of her father, T. Cyrler.

Ten-year-old Roy Jorgensen, living on Madison avenue, has been haled before the court for stealing a $20 bicycle from a schoolmate named Pearl Geffert and trying to sell it in town for half that sum. Policeman Drenth says the lad admitted the theft from the rack at the schoolhouse.

Lastly will come on a Chinese youth named Harry Wong. The charge against him is that he hired a horse and buggy on the 28th of last month and did not return them, presumably because he has sold them.

PIONEER RESIDENT A FRESNO VISITOR

Walter Pettit, a pioneer settler in the valley, was a visitor in Fresno yesterday. Mr. Pettit, who is a native Londoner, came to this country ten years of service he emigrated to the United States. Enlisting in the Union navy at New Bedford, Mass., he saw service at Fort Fisher under Admiral Porter, and had several exciting experiences, including that of being captured. He was paroled and afterward was a noted deserter. Through an English army officer he met in California, after he had come here from the East, his story became known and was published in the Birmingham. Later through friends he was able to prove his claim to a pension. He came to this valley on a cattle man. He and a man named Jack Rhodes he drove 250 horses from Lemore to Missouri.

REV. BEAL TALKS ON RACE HISTORY

Pastor of North Side Christian Church Reviews Development of Man From Beginning.

The subject of Rev. Beal's sermon last night at the North Side Christian church revival service was "Greater Than Solomon Is Here." The speaker reviewed the history of the human race from the time of primitive man to the days of Solomon. Each individual lives the history of the race in his own body. A large share of the race, however, never gets any farther than the Solomon stage of material wisdom and sensual desire. Jesus is indeed greater than Solomon. Jesus leads us into the higher development possible for the human race," said the speaker.

The services began with the rousing series of songs and was followed by a testimony meeting in which many took part. At the close of the meeting two young women joined the church.

Rev. Beal announced that no services would be held this morning. Sunday, the large Bible school will meet in the tent and an effort is being made to have 1000 present. At 12 m. the subject will be "Behold the Man." In the afternoon a children's service will be held when Rev. Beal will illustrate his talk on "Unseen Power" by the use of a large magnet and other objects. In the evening the subject will be "The Call of the Wild."

HAIL LOOKED LIKE SNOW ON GROUND

Dinuba Reports Peculiar Storm; Joy Riders Smash Auto; Proposed Road Brings Joy.

DINUBA, Oct. 14.—One of the most peculiar storms that has visited this section in years was experienced Tuesday when, at a point north of the Smith Mountain and the California vineyard, a hail storm fell that left the ground covered for several miles to a depth of two and three inches. The hail could be seen for several miles on the low hills north of here, and it looked as if a snow storm had passed that section. Parties coming from there during the storm state that in some of the places on the rolling land the hail was fully two feet deep and that as they drove along the road the horse sank into the ice crust just as if bogging into deep mud.

The rain for this week has amounted to 27 of an inch.

EXCITING SMASHUP.

What came near being a very serious if not fatal auto wreck occurred at a point north of Sanger night before last, when W. F. Day of this city, with a company of three other local men, Amos W. C. Hauser and Brow West, were returning from a trip to Fresno in Day's steamer. They were traveling along a narrow strip of the road and traveling slow, as a large car was coming at a terrific rate from the Sanger direction, and as the strange machine neared them it became evident that it was keeping the middle of the road, and Day pulled well into the bank. The cars came together, striking their front wheels and completely wrecking the same. The impact killed both machines around and the stranger smashed into the ditch bank nearby, completely burying its head. There were seven passengers in the Sanger machine and it is a wonder no one was hurt. An investigation and inquiry was made by the Dinuba parties and it was found that both machines were out of commission and some of the other party admitted that several of their company, including the driver, were intoxicated, stating that they left Sanger with two quarts of liquor in the car. The strangers were not given their identity or the ownership of the car, and soon disappeared in the darkness. The Dinuba people walked the nine miles into Fresno and arrived footsore and mad.

The announcement from Fresno a few days ago of the proposed building of an electric road from that city through here to Oroshi has been received in this part of the county with delight. It is believed the line will certainly be constructed within a short time and that it will be materially aided all along the line through this rich section. The proposed road will be a great boon to the people here in both the moving of freight and the providing of a passenger service. Further developments are awaited with interest.

CATARRH A SPECIFIC BLOOD IMPURITY

Catarrh is a deep-seated blood disease, one which no amount of local treatment will ever permanently cure. The beneficial effects of washes, sprays, inhalations, etc., are only temporary, and when left off the old condition returns, because the blood is infected with catarrhal matter and impurities. This impure condition of the circulation irritates and inflames the delicate mucous membranes and tissues and produces the well known symptoms of ringing noises in the head and ears, mucus in the throat, headaches, watery eyes, partial deafness, sore throat, general impairment of health, etc. This condition will remain, growing worse as long as the catarrhal matter is allowed to remain in the blood. Being a specific blood impurity, there is only one way to cure Catarrh, and that is to purify the blood. Nothing equals S. S. S. for this purpose. It attacks the disease at its head—in the circulation—and by thoroughly renovating the blood and cleansing it of all impure matter, makes a permanent and lasting cure of the disease. For forty years S. S. S. has been recognized as the best blood purifier, and the thousands of cases of Catarrh it has cured is proof that it is the very medicine needed by those who suffer with this trouble. BROWN IN DEFENSE OF RATE INCREASE

N. Y. Central President Tells of Capitalization and Dividend Increase.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President W. C. Brown of the New York Central Lines was on the witness stand throughout the day in the investigation by the Interstate Commerce Commission into the proposed advance in freight rates in the Eastern trunk line territory. The case of the railroad practically is completed, although J. C. Stewart, vice president of the I. C. C., is to be heard.

In discussing the capitalization of the New York Central, President Brown said:

"The New York Central stock, every dollar of it, has been paid for at $100 a share, except such as was paid for at the rate of $125 to $150 a share, and the New York Central cannot be repaid the value of 200 per cent of its paid-up stock and bonds. I say that under oath."

Louis D. Brandeis of counsel for the shippers took up the cross-examination and elicited the information that J. F. Morgan was a member of the executive body of the New York Central and that the firm of J. F. Morgan & Company was among the financial advisers of the road.

"Did Mr. Morgan approve of the increase of New York Central dividends from 5 to 6 per cent in 1932?" inquired Brandeis.

"I cannot answer, because I don't know," responded the witness.

"Did not you and your directors make this increase in dividends with a full knowledge that employees were about to demand increased wages?"

"The demand for increased wages was pending at that time, I believe," replied President Brown.

"Is it not a fact," persisted Brandeis, "that you disabled yourself to the extent of $1,250,000 a year from meeting the increased liabilities for wages?"

Explains Increase.

In doing that," replied Brown, "we increased the dividends less than the men who held the securities of the New York Central could have gotten on first-class mortgages—a dividend about equal to a 4 per cent bond, but because bonds sell at most on a 5 per cent basis. The same reason that caused an increase in wages logically and necessarily applied to the people who held the stock of the railroad."

"Do you not conceive," suggested Brandeis, "that it is your duty and the duty of your fellow directors, if a surplus was necessary for the maintenance of the credit of the road to withhold the granting of the dividend at a time when you knew that a demand for an increase in wages was to be made, which necessarily would impair a portion of your net revenue?"

"No, sir," said Brown.

"Was the question considered," suggested Brandeis, "in view of the effect of that action upon the credit of the New York Central and upon its ability to borrow money in the markets of the world?"

"I don't recall," replied President Brown, "whether it was or not, but there is no question but that the increase of the dividend to 6 per cent made it possible to dispose of satisfactory terms of $44,000,000 securities of the company."

Brandeis, in response to question by Chairman Knapp and other members of the commission, indicated his purpose to show that if railroads in the Eastern territory were managed with the highest degree of efficiency it would be possible for them to earn dividends and make desired improvements without increasing rates.

He said he would put men on the stand who would explain how this could be done.

BOGOSLOV VOLCANO VIOLENTLY ACTIVE

Revenue Cutter Officers Observe Changes in Island Group.

SEWARD, Alaska, Oct. 14.—The famous Bogoslov volcano in the Aleutian Islands is an active volcano, more than ever before, according to a report brought from the West by the revenue cutter Thetis, which arrived today. Smoke and ash are being emitted and a half dozen craters are continuing to erupt. The crater, according to the report, is 1,000 feet high. The volcano is 1,000 feet high. The volcano is 1,000 feet high. The volcano is 1,000 feet high.

The island was formerly a rendezvous for marauders of sea birds, all of which probably were killed. Not a dove bird was visible from the Thetis, but great numbers of dead ones floated in the sea.

The Thetis anchored ten miles from the volcano, not daring to approach nearer, the cutter's decks being covered with hot ashes even where the bay. The officers spent a day in viewing the beautiful spectacle of the troubled mountain and in making photographs.

While bound in Alutia Sound, early in September, the Thetis's officers noted recent and remarkable changes in the topography of the Bogoslov group, a new island having lifted itself where deep water formerly had been and other islands diminished in size.

A party of volunteers under Lieut. R. H. Waerne, asked to be permitted to land on the islands and make observations until the cutter's southward trip in October, but Chief Engineer Borran, who knows the freaks of Bogoslov, warned the men of the peril of the undertaking and the proposed expedition was abandoned.

If the explorers had remained on the islands they must have perished, for when the Thetis returned the chief peak was ablaze and the other islands in commotion.

SIX FOREIGNERS KILLED IN WRECK OF WORK TRAIN

PORT WAYNE, Ind., Oct. 14.—In a collision between freight and work trains on the Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad at Summit, a small station, four miles from Portland, Ind., early today, six men were killed and several injured. All were foreigners and members of a construction gang.

BURGLAR BINDS AND
GAGS WOMAN IN HOME

Rummages Premises, Pockets Loot, Tips His Hat and Escapes.

PASADENA, Oct. 14.—With a gag tied in her mouth and herself bound hand and foot and tied in her chair, Mrs. F. L. Lincoln of 342 South Hudson avenue was compelled to sit and watch a burglar ransack her house, pocket all the money he could find and then quietly take his departure.

Mrs. Lincoln was sitting in her home yesterday when her door bell rang. She went to the door, where stood a well-dressed young man who stated that he was taking subscriptions for a newspaper. She unhooked the screen door to allow him to hand her a paper, when he shoved a big pistol in her face, at the same time telling her that if she made an outcry he would kill her.

Thoroughly frightened, she threw up both hands and fell back against the door casing. The robber then pulled some rope from his pocket and tied her in her chair, at the same time placing a big red handkerchief over her mouth.

Then he took his time rummaging the house. When he had completed his work he tipped his hat and said, "Good bye." Mrs. Lincoln managed to free herself after about an hour's work, when she went to a house of a neighbor and telephoned the police station. The burglar escaped.

PROBING SMUGGLING
ON THE GREAT LAKES

Cutters Search 3 Vessels;
Officials State Illegal
Traffic Is Large.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Search of tramp steamers and sailing vessels of the Great Lakes for alleged smuggled goods has been in progress for several days, according to information received today. Three vessels having general lake connections have been stopped and searched by revenue cutters and although no incriminating evidence was obtained in these specific instances, customs officials declare they are about to put on end to what they say has grown to be a considerable fraudulent trade.

The activity of the Chicago officials arose from information that certain vessels not of regular lines having proceeded a clearance from some "Swedish" port would secretly take on dutiable cargo en route, discharging it at any American port to which it had been consigned.

FIND MISSING MAN—
A CORPSE IN LAKE

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—The body of Walter B. Coles, president of the Keefe-Coles Printing Company, was found in Lake Michigan early today. Coles disappeared a week ago and relatives had asked the police of all cities in the Northwest to search for him, believing that he had been forcibly detained or had become mentally afflicted. Several wounds on the head led the police to believe that Coles might have been murdered.

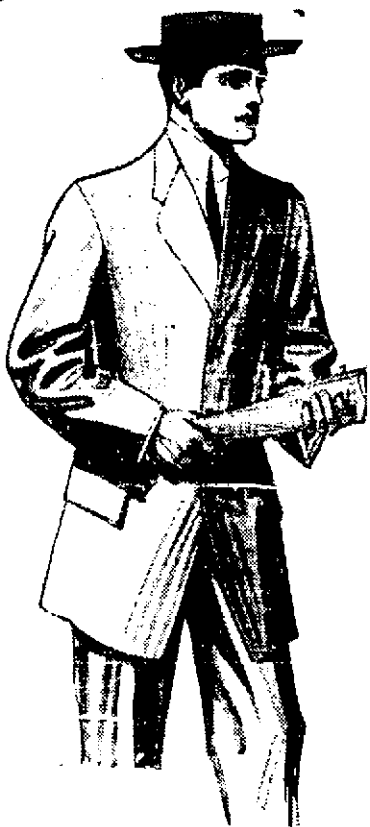

In his pocket was found a gold watch bearing his name, and by which he was identified, a pearl-handled knife and 70 cents. His coat was missing and has not been found. Apparently the body had been in the water no longer than two or three days.

CANTON, Ohio, Oct. 14.—A North-east Ohio traction car bound from Akron to Canton overturned at Uniontown, fifteen miles north of here, early today. Two passengers sustained serious injuries. Six others were cut and bruised. A broken axle caused the derailment.

Sonoma Grand Jury Prob-

Murder.

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Oct. 14.—The Sonoma county grand jury began today an investigation of the murder of the Kendall family on the Starbuck ranch near Cazadero, with the object of returning an indictment against Henry Yamaguchi, the Japanese accused of the crime. If the facts developed warranted such action.

The witnesses examined at the morning session were Judge F. P. Tupper, Deputy Sheriff A. E. Tupper, Mrs. William Churchman, Hugh McVain, Arthur Collins and J. W. Hopper. Mrs. Margaret Starbuck will be called late today.

Although not admitted by the county officials, it is the general belief that Yamaguchi has been located outside of the state and that an indictment is desired in order to expedite his extradition.

POOL CHAMPION WINS

ALBANY, Oct. 14.—Jerome Krogh, of Rochester, champion of the world, defeated Charles W. Weston in a 600-ball pool match which was concluded tonight after three nights' playing. The score was 600 to 553.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—Oakland did not strike its pennant-contending stride until the second game of the double-header played this afternoon at Recreation Park, and then the San Francisco outfit was blanked under a 3 to 0 score. In the first session Cutshaw and Cameron set themselves down for a couple of errors each, and although Ralph Willis pitched good ball, the loose support at first and second gave the game to San Francisco, 4 to 3.

HARVARD'S POWERFUL SET OF BACKS; COACH HAUGHTON SAYS THEY ARE GREATEST IN COUNTRY

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 14.—The outlook for a successful season at Harvard for a successful season at Harvard is one of the brightest the Crimson men have had in years. There is no doubt that there is a splendid supply of material on hand. The men are big, rangy and fast. Moreover, there are plenty of good men who can be sent in to take the place of the first string men and do the work quite as well. Harvard lost but four men by graduation last spring. They were Captain Ham Fish, Ed Withington, center, and Browne and Houston, the under the faculty ban, are now in harness. Last year's men to return this fall are Captain Larry Withington, Fisher, guard; L. D. Smith, end; P. D. Smith, center; Wigglesworth and Fishery, quarters; Leslie, Corbett and Frothingham, back field men. Harvard also has a wealth of fast material to select a strong eleven from. The substitutes from last year's eleven are many, and most of them had experience in all the games but the one with Yale. Altogether Harvard's prospects are exceptionally bright. It looks as though she will have the best year that she has experienced for many, many seasons. Coach Haughton says he has the strongest back field in the country. Corbett, Minot, Leslie, Wigglesworth and Frothingham are men that any coach would be proud of.

COALINGA FANS ARE BETTING COIN ON VIC HANSON

Taft Is Also Backing the Clever Boxer From the Oil Fields.

COALINGA, Oct. 14.—A Coalinga visitor of Taft and who returned from that city this morning reports that considerable interest is being shown in that town in the coming boxing contest between Vic Hanson of Coalinga and Kid George of Oakland Saturday night. Since defeating Jack Tipper in Taft a few weeks ago, Hanson has become a favorite in the little oil town and all the fans look for him to do up George in short order and are backing their judgment with coin.

Hanson is training under the direction of Kid Winner with Kid Kenneth (Harrison) as a sparring partner. The reports are that Hanson is in fine condition and improving with each day's work. George is also in good shape, as he is fresh from two recent battles about the bay and showing good form. Following his scrap with Hanson he will fight in Vallejo on the 27th.

Hanson's future ticket is also well filled up. Following Saturday's contest, he will go to Maricopa to continue his training for an encounter before the Maricopa Athletic Club the latter part of the month. He will then return to Taft to box on the evening of the 12th. On Thanksgiving Day, he will appear before the Bearsfield club in the main event. His opponent for these fights have not been signed as yet but will be made public as soon as they do so.

Eddie Smith, the popular Oakland referee, will be the third man in the ring at the Taft arena Saturday night.

The Freshmen were lined up against the Varsity in scrimmage and it was in trying to stop a play through the line that Goodsmith went down under the players.

Two other accidents occurred to the Freshmen players, and although both were less serious, they will result in keeping two other good men out of the game for some time.

HAL CHASE'S HEAD WORK WINS SECOND GAME FROM THE GIANTS

With One Run Needed to Tie the Score in the Ninth, Prince Hal Orders Men to Wait the Pitcher Out; Warhop Effective.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Victory perched on the banners of the New York Americans today when they passed the Nationals in the last two innings of a well-played contest and won the second game of the post-season series, 5 to 4. It was a pitchers' contest between Whitte and Warhop, and honors were fairly even until the last two innings when under a storm of American hits, Whitte weakened and lost control. Warhop worked splendidly throughout the game.

With only a run needed to tie the score in the ninth, Manager Chase noted that Whitte was weakening under the strain. He ordered his men to wait the pitcher out and in consequence, Gardner, the first man up, walked. Mitchell was hit by a pitched ball, and the second went wild. Roach, batting for Warhop, sacrificed and Austin singled to right, scoring Gardner and Mitchell took third. Daniels hit to center, and Mitchell was caught at the plate, killing the bases. Whitte, clearly rattled, could not locate the plate, and Chase, the next batter, walked, forcing in Austin with the winning run. The score:

Nationals	4	6	1
Americans	5	8	3

Batteries—Whitte and Myers; Warhop and Mitchell. Umpires—Evans and Klein.

BARNEY OLDFIELD SETS RECORD BUT IT WILL NOT BE ALLOWED

READVILLE, Mass., Oct. 14.—Despite his recent disqualification by the American Automobile Association because he persisted in racing, Barney Oldfield set a record today at a regularly sanctioned meet at the Readville track, breaking the track record for one mile.

Driving his Benz machine, Oldfield covered the mile circuit in 56 seconds flat. The former record was 57 seconds made by Ralph D. Palma, in a Fiat June 17, 1908. Oldfield's time is not official and will not be accepted by the association.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 14.—John O'Connor, manager of the St. Louis American League baseball team, departed for Chicago today to give President B. B. Johnson of the American League a report of the playing in Sunday's double-header in which Lajoie made eight hits. O'Connor said:

"The affair has gone beyond the heads of the league and the folly of thinking there was any conspiracy, the better for baseball."

under the faculty ban, are now in harness. Last year's men to return this fall are Captain Larry Withington, Fisher, guard; L. D. Smith, end; P. D. Smith, center; Wigglesworth and Fishery, quarters; Leslie, Corbett and Frothingham, back field men. Harvard also has a wealth of fast material to select a strong eleven from. The substitutes from last year's eleven are many, and most of them had experience in all the games but the one with Yale. Altogether Harvard's prospects are exceptionally bright. It looks as though she will have the best year that she has experienced for many, many seasons. Coach Haughton says he has the strongest back field in the country. Corbett, Minot, Leslie, Wigglesworth and Frothingham are men that any coach would be proud of.

BAN JOHNSON CLEARS UP LAJOIE SCANDAL BY INVESTIGATION

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Third Baseman John Corridon, who, while playing in the recent Cleveland-St. Louis series, is said to have assisted materially in fattening the batting average of Lajoie, appeared at the office of President Johnson of the American League today. After the visit, Mr. Johnson said the player had explained the incident satisfactorily. Corridon's statement is said to agree with the explanations already published—namely, that the third baseman had a whole-some respect for Lajoie's hitting powers and played too far back properly to handle the wily Clevelander's bunts.

"I found that Corridon had a perfectly logical and, as I believe, an absolutely truthful explanation of the reason Lajoie made so many hits," said President Johnson, following his interview with the St. Louis player.

"There has been some misrepresentation over the character of the hit," said Johnson, "and it would have been dangerous to field. Others veteran bender would have difficulty in getting, and a player new to major league company might be excused for missing them."

"Any one familiar with Lajoie's skill as a batter can understand how it would be quite possible for him to make his against a recuser when he can turn the trick against the most experienced veterans of the game time experienced players," said Johnson.

"I give Corridon a clean bill and do not think that any suspicion of blame should attach to him. I am very glad to find the facts as they are."

IRISH-AMERICANS TAKE FIRST HONORS AT NEW ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 14.—The Irish-American A. C. of New York rolled up 51 points in the junior championship meet of the Amateur Athletic Union at Tulane University stadium today, which seven Irish-Americans won their first titles. They promise to be as successful tomorrow in the national events.

The Chicago Athletic Association was second with 41 points and Illinois Athletic Club, Chicago, third, with 31 points. The Irish-American A. C. was the only team to win a title in the event of the 100-yard dash.

Sid Jones of Birmingham, 40 years of age, went into the jump and won third place.

Large numbers of bulky men about the field who did not compete said: "We have to run some" if they repeat. Notice among them was a delegation of half a dozen from the Pacific coast, headed by Ralph Rose, who is said to be physically the best man in New Orleans tonight.

DOLLY GRAY TO MARRY.
OAKLAND, Oct. 14.—William D. Gray, better known as "Dolly" Gray, the pitcher for the Washington American League and well known in the baseball world, took out a marriage license this morning to marry Miss Leonard D. Purfee, the daughter of Charles A. Purfee, a prominent horseman.

The wedding will take place some time today and the honeymoon will be spent in Southern California. It was while Gray was playing on one of the Coast League teams that he met Miss Purfee. Gray has signed a contract with Washington for next season.

Doings In The Sporting World

No Danger of Another Baseball War

By TOMMY CLARK.

As has been the case for many years at this time of the baseball season, there is talk of a third major league circuit. The talk is more insistent this time than ever before, and men with millions are said to be behind the scheme. The plan of the promoters is to have a twelve club circuit with teams from the big cities. A few years ago reports such as these would have thrown the baseball world into a flurry of excitement and even dread on the part of magnates. The stories at this time caused scarcely a ripple and merely an elevation of the eyebrows on the part of those financially interested in present clubs.

The growth of the national pastime which has made possible as well as necessary the investment of fortunes in mammoth grand stands and pavilions and the purchase or lease of valuable tracts of property for the playing fields has tended to the stability of baseball investments. The great expense incidental to launching a baseball league in opposition to the present machinery of organized baseball is the greatest obstacle to that plan.

Even if the proposed twelve club circuit, impracticable on its face, were reduced to eight clubs, the initial outlay would represent an investment of from $2,000,000 to $4,000,000 before the first run of actual warfare was freed. To compete on a basis of equality with either the National or American league a new organization would need commodious grounds and stands. Any major league club which has not at least a $250,000 plant is a "piker" in the present day of baseball fortunes. After that would come the luring, only at fancy prices, of diamond stars from their present engagements and then the battle for patronage and prestige, for it is certain the present organizations would fight and fight hard against any intruder, pouring back some of the money already made in the sport, while the invaders would be spending "new money," as to speak. Under present conditions the financial difficulties seem to argue against the formation of a third major league from new material. That some of the present organizations might expand or that there might be a realignment of men now interested in the national game would add more ready listeners.

Talk of a possible baseball war as a result of the foundation of a new league back-d by theatrical interests has recalled the fact that since the national game became firmly organized in 1876 five of these "wars" have marred the sport and burned up thousands of dollars. Either jealousy or a desire by outsiders to cut into the "good thing" caused the trouble in each instance. The first strife was in 1882, when the National league clashed with the newly organized American association. Then in 1884 the Union association was organized and a fight to a finish with the National league and the American association followed. In 1890 the Brotherhood of Base-ball Players, headed by John M. Ward, helped to form the Players' league, which tried to put the National league out of business, but without success. Ten years later the American league was founded by Ban Johnson, and after a bitter struggle it succeeded in compelling the old National league to sue for peace.

It was after the National league, the American association and the North-western league had signed what was known as the tripartite agreement in the fall of 1893 that outside promoters, realizing that there was money in professional baseball, decided to cut in. Headed by Henry V. Lucas, a young St. Louis millionaire, these persons met at Pittsburgh in September of that year and organized the Union association, placing clubs in Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Altoona, Washington, St. Louis, Chicago and Cincinnati. Lucas' bank roll provided the means for wholesale raids on the National league and American association clubs, and before spring arrived fifty ball players had been induced to jump the reserve clause in their contracts.

Some Ancient History.

After the season had been under way six weeks Altoona blew up and Kansas City was substituted. In mid-season Lucas, who owned the St. Louis Union, induced Jack Glasscock, Jim McCormick and Brody to jump the Cleveland. This caused a big row, but Lucas had the men sewed up so tight that they could not be recovered. As the baseball public did not take much interest in the new league it soon began to totter. Philadelphia disbanded, and Wilmington, admitted, also went by the board after a few weeks. Then Lucas and his friends took in Milwaukee and transferred the Chicago club to the Smoky City, where there was another collapse, and St. Paul was pressed into the circuit. The season wound up with only five clubs able to take the field. St. Louis winning the championship in a walk with ninety-one victories and sixteen defeats. Lucas, nothing daunted, announced that the Union association would be reorganized for the season of 1895, but during the winter the National league magnates began to show how they could play baseball politics by admitting Lucas and his St. Louis club to their circuit. Of course Lucas jumped at this chance, and the Union association received its deathblow.

Death of Union League.

It was five years after the death of the Union association that the Players' league was formed for a desperate struggle for public patronage. This movement resulted from a disagreement between the National league and the Brotherhood over the players' contract and reserve rule and John T. Brush's classification scheme, which involved a general reduction in salaries. The Brotherhood leaders were John M. Ward, then captain and shortstop of the Giants; Buck Ewing, Tim Keefe, Roger Connor and Jim O'Rourke, also of the New Yorks, Edward Hanlon of the Pittsburghs, Mike Kelley of the Bostonians and other famous stars. The Brotherhood pledge was signed by practically every National league player.

In all more than $1,000,000 was subscribed to start the stupendous undertaking, and when the season of 1900 opened there were new clubs in Boston, New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Buffalo, Chicago, Pittsburgh and Cleveland.

Ball has stirred up interest never before known.

It has been predicted within the last two years that another baseball war is inevitable. The leading major leagues, the American association and the Eastern league, are growing more powerful each year, and several of the most prosperous club owners in these circuits are said to be anxious to reach out for some of the major league territory.

SOME OF THE FINDS OF THE 1910 SEASON

Photos by American Press Association.

If the managers of the major league clubs are as lucky in unearthing star youngsters next season as they have been this year they should be thankful. Reports from the scouts of the big league clubs say that promising material is very scarce in the minor circuits. Out of the fifty-seven youngsters left after the weeding out process last spring more than half will be kept for next season. Among the youngsters who have made great names for themselves in the American league this season are Russell Ford of New York, Duffy Lewis of Boston and Lapp of Philadelphia. In the National league there are King Cole of Chicago, Jake Daubert of Brooklyn and Vincent Campbell of Pittsburgh. Although there were many others discovered, these are the shining lights. Ford is considered to be the greatest pitcher developed in the American league in two years. Chicago experts are of the opinion that King Cole will be the leading pitcher of the National league next season. Lapp is considered to be one of the best backstops in the junior big organization. Daubert is a corker and is now classed among the leading first sackers of the National league. Manager Clarke thinks so well of Campbell that he has selected the latter to play left field for the Pirates next season. Lewis is the best outfielder developed in the American league this year.

ACCIDENT MADE HIM UMPIRE.

Jack Sheridan Tells How He Broke Into Game.

"An accident common to ball players started me on the downward path of umpiring," says Jack Sheridan. "In youth I aspired to be a hold athlete and got along very well until I went to Chattanooga, Tenn., to play second base with a pig iron arm. That was in the spring of 1895. Early in the season they used the acid test on the arm, and it was a case of tin can for me.

"They had passed the iron age in Dixie. Henry Grady, the silver tongued statesman, was president of the Southern league at that time. He must have thought my voice sounded ripe for the business, so he offered me a soft snap umpiring at $75 per month. I needed the money, but I knew then what I do now I would not have needed the money. Sometimes a fellow can get along without it.

"However, I was a youngster, far from my sunny California home, and the $75 per month looked good before I got busy. I was assigned to Macon, Ga., where they opened with great eclat, as the society papers say, and I umpired since then."

Pitcher Is at Fault, Says McGraw.

Manager McGraw of the New York Nationals says bases are not stolen on the catcher, but on the pitcher. He says it is up to the pitcher to keep a base runner close to first base. "If the pitcher allows too much of a start the best throw in the world cannot stop him," says McGraw. "Of course the catchers make bad throws occasionally, but they would make very few if the base runners were held close and throws did not have to be made in a hurry."

FOOTBALL PENALTIES

If Referee or Somebody Else Would Announce Them 'Twould Be a Boon

While gridiron savants and others not so savantish are telling how fine or how fierce the game is going to be this fall under the reform code, depending learnedly or otherwise on a subject on which it is pretty much guesswork with all of them, there is one plan the rules committee could order which would be sure to help spectators in comprehending what was going on. The simple plan of having the referee announce through a megaphone what penalties are for when inflicted has been suggested. If the referee is too busy, then let the field judge, line-man or somebody with a good voice do it.

The penalties to which teams are liable in football are manifold, and nine times out of ten the spectators don't know what particular breach of the rules has incurred a penalty. Generally they put it down to holding or offside and let it go at that. It might be one of several dozen offenses. An announcement of the offense and the nature of the penalty would clear up doubt and educate the spectators, and that the big majority of football patrons need education in the fine points of the game, and lots of it, nobody can deny. Better understanding of a game won't hurt its popularity.

As showing the crying need for a diffusion of knowledge on what has incurred a penalty here are some of the things for which penalties can be imposed:

Substitute coming in and not reporting to the referee.

Prohibited apparel of any kind. Unnecessary delay. Illegal positions of players in scrimmage line. Offside and holding. Linemen not going five yards back when they drop behind the line. Player in motion before ball is snapped, except obliquely or toward his own goal. Ahead of the ball on the kickoff. Ahead of the restraining line on a kickoff. Ball being held for kick, touching ground without being kicked immediately. Punt-out violations. Fair catch violations and illegal signaling. Out of bounds violations. Faint to snap ball when putting it in play. Interlocked interference. Interference with the snapperback. Penalties for incomplete forward pass, illegal forward pass or illegally touching the ball on forward pass. Tripping, huddling, crawling, slugging, foul tackling and piling up on runner. Touching the ball when offside, coaching from the side lines, more than five persons on the side lines, kick not made from five yards back of the scrimmage line, and so on ad infinitum. If anybody besides the officials can distinguish among all those cases of infraction of the rules he is more than mortal.

BATTERS COMPLAIN OF USE OF "BEAN BALL."

Players Say Pitchers Try to Hit Them.

Baseball players all over the country have been making a howl this year against the "bean ball" used by pitchers to frighten batters. Batters say the pitchers are deliberately trying to hit them. It certainly does look like it, judging from the number of batters who have been hit this year.

Several players have been killed and a number badly hurt by being struck with supposedly wild heaves. There are many cases on record in baseball where star players were compelled to retire from the game for good on account of being dangerously injured by pitched balls.

Addie Joss, the famous Cleveland pitcher, admits that he uses a "bean ball" on dangerous batters in order to scare them, and he charges other twirlers with doing the same trick.

Next time you attend a league game watch a pitcher when he is in a tight hole and a good hitter up. It's a good bet the twirler will peg one at the batter's head in an attempt to intimidate him. Often batters charge pitchers with intentionally hitting them. It's about time for the national commission to get busy and do something to check pitchers who deliberately hit batters.

If a fine or suspension was imposed on a pitcher every time he struck a batter there probably would be a decided decrease in the "hit by pitched ball" department of a tabulated score.

War was declared, and a new American league circuit was arranged with clubs in Chicago, Boston, Detroit, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Cleveland and Milwaukee. The National league clubs were raided for players, and a barrel of money was lost by the older organization. In 1903, with the war still raging fiercely, McGraw sold the Baltimore club to the National league and signed with the Giants, also bringing Bresnahan, McGinnity, Gilbert and McGann to the Polo grounds. This was a body blow for the American league, but another club was placed in Baltimore, and the schedule was completed with much success.

Invasion of New York.

Bent upon making a clean sweep, the American league men decided to invade New York. They found a backer in Frank J. Farrell, who spent $110,000 for new grounds before he could play a game of ball. Beaten all along the line then, the National league before the season of 1903 began was ready to sue for peace. Garry Hermann had purchased the Cincinnati National league club and was a big factor in bringing about a settlement. The peace pact was signed, and the two leagues then settled down in perfect harmony. Since that incident professional baseball has enjoyed wonderful popularity. Practically all of the major league clubs have coined money. The world's series each

GAMA IS AFTER BIG GAME.

Victory Over Roller Has Started Indian Wrestler on Warpath.

Now that Gama, the Indian wrestler, has defeated Dr. R. F. Roller, the American grappler, and John Lamm, the big Swiss, his manager is seeking engagements with other mat artists.

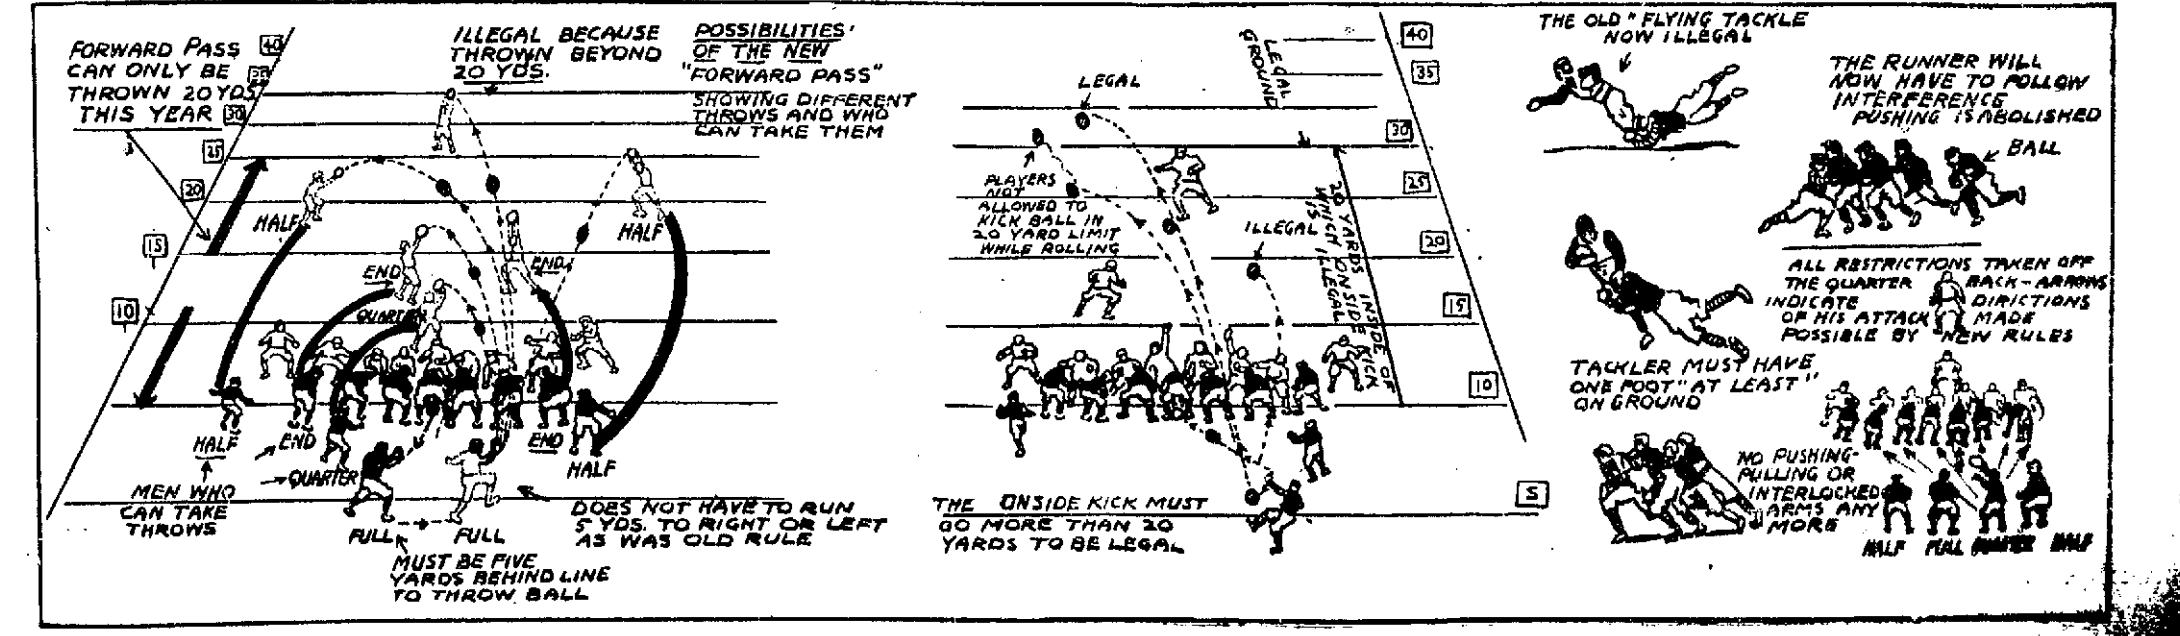

Gama is a big fellow, weighing 310 pounds, yet so large that some of the fellows whom he has challenged in vain. He is eighteen inches around the neck, forty-eight inches in the chest when in repose and twenty-seven inches at the thigh.

Among the propositions that had been made by Gama's manager, but without acceptance, was one to throw Erbeke three times in thirty minutes for $1,000 a side, to throw Hackenschmidt in twenty minutes for $500 a side or to throw each of any two wrestlers in England once within an hour or forfeit $500. Gama also wants to meet Gotch.

Early Horse Racing.

The earliest definite establishment of horse racing seems to have been made at Chester, England. It was William Lester who about 1609, being mayor of Chester, "did cause three silver bells to be made of good value to be run for upon the 'Roode Dea'."
